

Interpreting and Translating for Africa

Pan-African Masters Consortium in Interpretation and Translation

PAMCIT develops and delivers language excellence for Africa and the world through a two-year internationally recognised Masters degree.

PAMCIT has been created in partnership between the European Union, the United Nations, the African Union and several other actors to supply the demand for skilled interpreters and translators in Africa. A network of Africa's top universities is now equipped to produce the best translators and conference interpreters on the continent.

By bringing together leading universities, creating first-rate facilities, and using world-class professionals as trainers (including EU staff interpreters) in Africa and in Europe, PAMCIT is able to train interpreters and translators qualified to international standards.
